Message from Arima Koushindou and Yamatogokoro

Spring 2020

The tradition of incense burning in Japan can be traced back to the 6th century with the introduction of Buddhism to the country. At first burning incenses was only reserved for religious rituals and ceremonies, but soon the aristocracy discovered the pleasures of the delicate fragrances for themselves and the art of appreciating incense "koudou" emerged. The secret of koudou, literally meaning "the way of the fragrance", lies in "listening" rather than smelling the incense, meaning that the fragrance is to be enjoyed and tasted with one's mind. Along with sadou (tea ceremony) and ikebana (flower arrangement), koudou is one of the three major classical Japanese arts.

We at Arima Koushindou seek to share the Japanese culture of incense burning with the world and invite you to explore the rich fragrances of Arima. We are collecting the most exquisite products from Japan's number one origin of incense, Awaji Island located in Hyogo prefecture, where only the most skilled craftsmen carefully create the finest incenses, as well as other regions like Kyoto and Sakai.

Burning incense will help you focus, balance your emotions, and inspire confidence. Open your mind and feel a deep bond with nature while "listening" to the wide range of Arima's incenses.
